ZaenDrive

Your car-rental assistant with answers from our rental handbooks.

Fictional coursework demo. Prices and availability are sample data. The app provides quotes and staff contact details; it does not make bookings.

Customer service

Welcome to ZaenDrive! Ask about our cars, a rental quote or our rental conditions.

If I return the car early, will unused days be refunded automatically?

No – returning the car early does not automatically refund any unused days. According to ZaenDrive's rental handbook, an early return does not automatically shorten the agreed rental period or trigger a refund; any request to change the agreement or receive a refund must be reviewed by staff【01_rental_handbook.md#early-return-and-refunds】. You would need to contact the rental location to discuss your situation.

Early return and refunds

`01_rental_handbook.md#early-return-and-refunds`

> A customer who expects to return a vehicle early should contact staff before bringing it back. An early return does not automatically shorten the agreed rental period and does not automatically create a refund for unused days. Staff must review any request to change the rental agreement or refund a payment. The assistant cannot promise a refund, calculate an entitlement from unused days, or mark the agreement as changed. Return still takes place at the fictional depot during its opening hours, with the same fuel or battery requirement and the normal handover check. A quote for a shorter future rental is a new price estimate, not evidence that an existing agreement has been amended. If the customer wants to know the status of a refund or payment, refer them to staff because this demonstration has no payment or booking records.
